Attorneys for the Virginia Railway and Power Company in their argument before Mayor Richardson when the franchise grant was up for executive ratification, said Mr. Jenkins objected to the grant because it did not meet the requirements either of the Constitution or of the Virginia statutes, and because it contained improper and illegal delegation of power to the Street Committee.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Washington, November 23.—Fifty million dollars for improvement of American harbors and rivers. This is the mammoth appropriation facing Congress this winter in the annual rivers and harbors bill, as predicted to-night by Representative Humphreys, Democrat, of Mississippi, a member of the Rivers and Harbors Committee. Next Wednesday the committee meets to begin framing the appropriation bill. "The army engineers have asked for an appropriation this year of $45,523,000," said Representative Humphreys. "I believe these estimates will be increased and that the completed bill will provide $50,000,000 for such work next year." Last year the appropriation was $33,000,000 including $5,000,000 for emergency, and permanent improvements to the levees and channel of the Mississippi River. Increase of the appropriation for the Mississippi River work this year to $5,000,000 is planned by Mississippi and Louisiana Congressmen. To declare for completion of river improvements within five years, at a total cost of $15,000,000, is planned by raising the levees and strengthening the weak points in the banks from Cape Girardeau, Mo., to the Gulf. Appropriation of the expenses, at the rate of two-thirds for the government and one-third for the adjacent States, is the proposed plan. Heretofore this ratio has been reversed. An initial appropriation of $500,000 to $1,000,000 for improvement of the Sacramento River, in California, is also proposed. This project will cost $33,000,000, of which it is proposed that the government pay one-third. Congressmen are already scrambling for consideration in the rivers and harbors bill, one of the big "pork barrel" bills of the coming season.

Most of the passengers were Saturday shoppers from Holston Valley, ten miles from the city. The injured are Mrs. John Booth, arm sprained and face gashed; Mrs. Hunningham, face cut; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rhodes, faces slightly gashed.
